Later in the Evening, Proceed for Alcazar Show. The Alcazar has been around since the early 1980's and it has grown from its humble beginnings, into an internationally renowned cabaret production. Perhaps the shaky start was due to the fact the female performers were all really males and the idea might have been misinterpreted. But the Alcazar is a class act, which puts on extravaganzas suitable for all members of the family and is particularly popular with Asian audiences. In recognition of this, the performers also dress in Korean, Chinese and Japanese styles and sing a song in each language, as well as performing international numbers. Dazzling sets, colourful costumes and a state of the art light and sound system highlight the artistry of the performers - though they lip-synch to most songs. After the performance you may take photographs outside of the 'girls' in their ostentatious outfits.
